

The Gaelic Society of Toronto will be holding a day of Gaelic language and song for learners of Scottish Gaelic on Saturday April 4th 2020.

The guest teachers for this date are as follows:

- Chrissie Drake - a native speaker from Lewis and Harris, Scotland
- Lorrie MacKinnon – long-time Cànan agus Òran organizer
- David Livingston-Lowe - David is a member of the staff in the University of Toronto Celtic Studies Program and an experienced Gaelic educator in many Celtic languages.

The Canan agus Oran day will run from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Carr Hall, 100 St. Joseph Street (Saint Michael's College, University of Toronto), Toronto, Ontario. The day will include of language classes and a song workshop. Classes will be offered at the Beginner, Intermediate, and Advanced levels. Should there be enough interest, a Beginner II (between beginner and intermediate) session will also be offered.

The cost for each day is $45, free to U of T students, $25 to non-U of T students and free to native speakers.

Early Bird Registration- 20% off discount – Registrations (including cheque or money order) received two weeks in advance (March 21 2020) pay $36, non-U of T students $20.

We have had the venue free of charge for many years. That benefit is no longer available to us. The registration fee has been increased by a small amount after many years with no increase. Rather than raise the fee by a higher amount, we ask those who are able, to make a donation in addition to the registration to offset the new and not insignificant venue charges, with our thanks.

Payment is cheque or money order. Please make cheques payable to the Gaelic Society of Toronto and send cheque and registration form to: Gaelic Society of Toronto, 1230 Crawford Court, Oakville, Ontario, L6J 1Z3
